

The Bank of Canada has a vision to be “a leading central bank—dynamic, engaged and trusted—committed to a better Canada.” You will be challenged, energized and motivated to excel in an environment where we are reinventing central banking, renewing ways of doing business and reinforcing a culture of innovation.

As the nation's central bank, the Bank of Canada has four main areas of responsibility: monetary policy, financial system, currency and funds management.

For more information on these responsibilities, please visit www.bankofcanada.ca/core-functions.

The Bank of Canada has officially launched the 2018-2019 University Recruitment Campaign.

About the position

Each year, through the university campaign, the Bank of Canada seeks exceptional Master's graduates who are prepared to take an active role in economic research, formulation and/or implementation of Bank policy in the areas of financial systems and funds management, monetary policy, analysis and forecasts and participate in a wide variety of projects linked to the department's field of specialization.

- Financial Sector Specialist Analyst: working as an analyst at the Bank allows you to play a leading role at the centre of Canada's economic and financial system. You will have the support of access to numerous data sources and powerful computing capabilities.
- Economist: working as an economist at the Bank, you must demonstrate the ability to initiate and undertake in-depth research projects, analyze complex economic issues, create new insights, devise novel approaches and make innovative decisions.

Qualifications

For your candidacy to be considered, the completion date for your Master's degree must be between 1 January 2018 and 31 December 2019.

- Our FSS Analysts must have a Master's degree with a concentration in Finance, Economics, Mathematics, Statistics, Computer Science or related quantitative disciplines.
- Our Economist must have a Master's degree with a concentration Economics.

Applications instructions

All applicants must submit a completed online application that includes the following documentations to support their candidacy:

- a current curriculum vitae
- cover letter
- official or unofficial transcripts of your undergraduate academic record. Relevant courses you have attended must be clearly identified by their course titles

Application deadline: Monday, 8 October 2018 at 11:59pm (EST)

Apply to the Analyst position

Apply to the Economist position